Annual Report ^{Note 1}

To: Chief School Development Officer (C & W)

2022-2023 School Year

(1) Annual Report on Measures related to Safeguarding National Security and National Security Education

School Name: St. Paul's College

Area	Measure(s)	Implementation Situation	Effectiveness and Reflection
School administration	Schedule meetings for the National Security Education Committee of the school to review the implementation of national security education in the school.	A meeting was held including the Principal, Vice Principal (Student Support), and the Convenor of the Moral and Civic Education Team. The Principal and the Convenor of the Moral and Civic Education Team had three meetings altogether. Additionally, there was one meeting between the Vice Principal (Administration) and the Convenor of the Moral and Civic Education Team.	The meetings allowed teachers to stay up-to-date on the latest developments in national security education and helped the College identify areas that required greater emphasis in terms of national security education, such as education on the Constitution.

Area	Measure(s)	Implementation Situation	Effectiveness and Reflection
	Make use of the National Education Event Planning Calendar provided by the EDB to promote national security education.	Teams and departments aligned their learning activities with the calendar	The calendar enables various teams and departments to plan and organise activities based on significant events. This enhances students' awareness and fosters collaboration among different working groups and departments. By adopting a whole-school approach that involves all academic departments and functional teams, these activities help students comprehend the importance of safeguarding national security and encourage them to work together towards this shared goal.
	Ensure that staff members are informed about talks, seminars, courses, and tests related to the Basic Law and National Security Law, including those available on the EDB's Training Calendar and the BLNST.	Emails were sent to staff, informing them about important workshops and seminars relevant to national security education. A noticeboard was decorated to promote the history and background of the National Anthem. Also, a book exhibition was conducted in collaboration with the Geography, Physics Departments and the Moral and Civic Education Team on China's science and geography Regular showcase of the achievements of China on the College TV;	An increasing number of College members attended the recommended courses. The College will keep track of the number of teachers who have attended relevant courses and encouraged them to have more professional exchange with colleagues. The campus fostered a strong sense of national pride through initiatives.

	Foster an atmosphere of national pride	Additionally, a separate noticeboard was dedicated to the CBL ambassadors, who actively promoted the National Anthem and Ecological Security throughout the campus. To enrich national education, a well-organised book exhibition focused on China's geography and scientific development was held in the school library.	The school also expanded its collection with books related to national education. Campus TVs showcased videos showcasing China's impressive scientific advancements, fostering students' connection and sense of belonging to the country.

Staff management	Consider only applicants with a pass in BLNST for employment.	Scrutinise the documents submitted by applicants before offering a contract to all new teachers. Aside from new teachers, serving teachers are encouraged to take the test. As in the usual practice, all teachers are also asked to sign a declaration to confirm that they abide by the National Security Law and they understand that the College reserves the right to report any suspected cases of breach to the Police for investigation. Staff are encouraged to take initiative to avail themselves of the documents issued by the Education Bureau, and browse the “Safeguarding National Security in Hong Kong” website or other information released by the government in order to gain a better understanding of the National Security Law. Teachers are also reminded to adhere to professional ethics and conduct and this message was delivered clearly in the staff meeting by the Principal.	In the 2022-2023 school year, providers of services that involve contact with students should also be required to sign a similar declaration.
Staff training	Encourage staff to complete Basic Law and National Security Law courses and tests to enable them to understand the content of the National Security	Throughout the school year 2022-2023, a large number of staff members completed Basic Law and/or National Security Law related seminars and courses, and some teachers also sat Basic Law / Basic Law and National Security Law tests such as BLT and BLNST approved by the EDB. Good and relevant courses related to this area were shared with all staff. CPD records show that	Continuously encourage both teaching and non-teaching staff to actively participate in professional development activities focused on national security. Promote a comprehensive understanding of the legislative background, spirit, content, and significance of the Hong Kong National Security Law, as well as the relevant measures necessary for effective

[Physics]	with traveling. To help students understand the advancements and importance of the growth of physics in China and Hong Kong, Chinese and Hong Kong scientists and technology should be introduced in the classroom.	Sir Charles Kuen Kao is presented in Form 3's lesson on optical fibers. He established the foundation for fiber optics in communications and was dubbed the "Father of Fiber Optics." He helped to enhance both global connectedness and scientific advancement, improving the standing of Chinese scientists abroad.	Sir Charles Kuen Kao's achievements can inspire students to pursue careers in science, engineering, or technology, particularly in the field of optical communications. By studying his work, students can develop an appreciation for the innovative thinking and problem-solving skills required to overcome challenges and revolutionize the field of fiber optics.
		One of the examples used in Form 4 for teaching the concepts of gravitation and satellites is the Chinese spacecraft's voyage to Mars. It suggests both the strengthening of the country and the development of Chinese astronomy and technology.	The use of a recent and significant event like the Chinese spacecraft's mission to Mars can capture students' attention and generate curiosity, making the learning experience more engaging and memorable. By studying the Chinese spacecraft's journey to Mars, students can reflect on the remarkable advancements in space technology and how they enable human exploration and scientific discoveries.
		The Three Gorges Dam Project is used to introduce the utilization of hydroelectric energy in Form 6. Instead of using fossil fuels to generate electricity, it uses hydroelectric power instead. Because no greenhouse gases are released during energy production, China's air quality is improved even with increased electricity use. consumption.	Studying the Three Gorges Dam Project can raise students' awareness about the environmental impact of energy generation. They can explore the advantages and disadvantages of hydroelectric power, including its potential for renewable energy production and its effects on ecosystems and local communities. Students can explore the social and economic consequences of large-scale energy projects like the Three Gorges
